fmX/06 again with Realtime Film Festival

fmX/06 is an event by the „Institute of Animation, Visual Effects and Digital Postproduction“ at the Filmakademie Baden-Wuerttemberg. It is one of the world-leading international conferences on animation, effects, realtime and content.

Artists and scientist, experts and users meet in Stuttgart at the Haus der Wirtschaft from 3rd to 6th of May for the 11th installment of the conference to discuss their experiences and present their newest work.

The Realtime Film Festival again is hosted at fmX and Digitale Kultur e.V. is - once again - proud to support fmX-staff with presentations and screenings about the demoscene.

At the Realtime Sessions on 3rd and 4th of May international speakers discourse on demos, flash animation and related topics.

Highlight of the festival is the Realtime Awards Ceremony at Thursday, 4th of May. The international jury, consisting - amongst others - of Ekkehard Brüggemann, Digitale Kultur e.V., will announce the winners of the five competition-categories: Demos, Machinimas, CutScenes, Flash Animations and Visuals.

After the Ceremony the Realtime Party takes place at club Rocker 33. Several DJs and a live video performance from 123.tv, Hamburg, will conclude the Realtime Film Festival 2006.
